Rahul Gandhi launches Gruha Lakshmi Scheme in city

'A major step in women empowerment as Govt. completes 100 days'

Mysuru, Aug. 30 (RK&BCT)- Fulfilling one of its main poll promises, the Karnataka Government launched the 'Gruha Lakshmi' Scheme (Rs. 2,000 financial aid to woman head of family) at the jam-packed Maharaja's College Grounds in city this morning.

The scheme was launched by Congress MP Rahul Gandhi in the presence of AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar, Women and Child Development Minister Lakshmi Hebbalkar, AICC General Secretaries Randeep Singh Surjewala and K.C. Venugopal.

Making it a show of strength event, all the Congress MLAs from Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar and Kodagu regions were present on the stage along with Cabinet Ministers. Interestingly, even the official machinery and top bureaucrats from all the districts of the region along with the IT team that facilitated the scheme launch were accommodated on the huge dais.

Under this scheme, over 1.5 crore women heads of family will get Rs. 2,000 each, every month. According to officials, the first instalment of the scheme was credited to the bank accounts today and the Government has earmarked Rs. 17,500 crore for the purpose. Banks have already completed the process of transferring money to the accounts of beneficiaries. The launch event was beamed live at over 12,500 centres simultaneously across the State.

To mark the launch, Mallikarjun Kharge and Rahul Gandhi lit the traditional lamp and Kharge later pressed the remote button when the cheque of Rs. 2,000 was displayed on screen and a theme song was played. A physical cheque was also displayed on the dais. Simultaneously, Rahul Gandhi too pressed the launch button on an i-pad, signalling the Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT) to the bank accounts.

Earlier, Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa read the preamble of Indian Constitution where all those present at the venue were administered the oath of protecting the Constitution. D.K. Shivakumar urged all those viewing the event from 12,500 centres to take oath as the preamble was read.

The leaders also released a booklet highlighting the achievements of the first 100 days of Congress Government. In his address, Rahul Gandhi said that Congress party has fulfilled all pre-poll promises and today, Gruha Lakshmi has been launched. While Rahul spoke in Hindi, MLA Sharath Bachegowda translated it to Kannada.

Mentioning all promises one by one, Rahul said the pre-poll guarantees will ensure that the principles of a welfare state will reach the grassroot population.

"The guarantees will strengthen the roots of families. If roots are weak, a tree is unable to stand. Congress is attempting to strengthen the roots of households by empowering women in the face of rising inflation," he said.

The guarantees assured and implemented by the Government in Karnataka is the main aim of a welfare state that ensures the welfare of its entire population and not limited to a few individuals.

"Karnataka has shown the way to the nation how such guarantees can be implemented nationwide. This scheme has not been formulated by any industrialist or a think-tank. It is your scheme and you women showed us the way," he added.

Digital cards were symbolically distributed to 10 women beneficiaries. The 1.50 crore cards have been brought out by the Women and Child Development Department. Mallikarjun Kharge was addressing the gathering when we went to press at 2 pm.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The southwest monsoon has slowed down in the last few weeks, causing concern in many parts of the country, including Karnataka. While July had a surplus of rains, August has seen an extended lean period. The country has seen 7 percent less rainfall cumulatively this monsoon compared to the long period average (LPA) because of a 31 percent deficit this month. This August may turn out to be the driest in the last 100 years. There are also indications that it may get worse in the coming days. It is southern, eastern and central India that have suffered the most deficit. The sowing of kharif crops has been hit in many areas. There are reports that sowing of pulses has come down by 10 percent. The prices of pulses rose by 13 percent in July and so the deficient monsoon does not augur well for food prices and the inflation levels in the coming weeks.

According to the Central Water Commission, water levels in 146 major reservoirs are 78.6 percent of last year's and 93.9 percent of the 10-year average levels for this time. The impact of El Nino may have started to be felt, and so there is the need to start preparations to meet the situation. It is likely that the food price levels may remain elevated and may impact the general inflation rate in the coming weeks. The central government may have to make major supply-side interventions to keep the prices in check. The present situation also underlines the need to improve irrigation facilities in the country.

Karnataka has started evaluating the difficult situation in many districts. Some districts and taluks may have to be declared as drought-hit. Payment of compensation and other forms of relief for farmers will have to be considered. Farmers who have lost their crops may consider planting other short-duration crops. In a drought situation, even drinking water may be a problem, and facilities for that also may have to be provided. The government will have to be ready for all these eventualities and to handle the situation. — In Deccan Herald

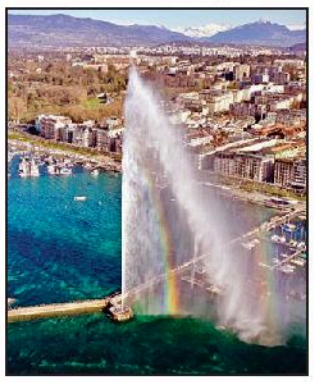
Man puts head into fountain, ends in hospital



Geneva: A Swiss man ended up in the hospital after reportedly putting his head into the Jet D'Eau, a giant water fountain on Lake Geneva and being thrown several meters into the air.

According to eyewitness, the 20-something man, whose name has not been revealed, somehow breached the security perimeter around Geneva's famous Jet d'Eau water fountain and put his head into the nozzle of what is essentially an extremely powerful water cannon. The Jet D'Eau pumps 500 litres water per second, at a speed of 200 kilometres per hour, to a height of 460 feet into the air. When the water sprouted out of the fountain, the young daredevil was catapulted backward by the force, which was a lucky outcome considering the alternatives.

The man managed to get up from his fall and fell into Lake Geneva, from where the Police ended up fishing him out.

Keyboard-inspired puffer jacket

London: Niche fashion brand Liminal Work Shop has created a unique-looking puffer jacket featuring 54 individually placed 3D padded keyboard keys.

Made of water-resistant nylon, the Liminal puffer jacket features key zipper pockets, a hash key zipper pull, and an adjustable waist. However, it's the unique aesthetic that makes it worth 623 dollars.

It's hard to argue that the keyboard-inspired design is something completely new in the fashion space and can be considered a work of art. Plus, all those padded keys may actually come in handy on a cold winter day.

Snake Shyam urges CM to provide compensation for fellow rescuers

Mysuru, Aug. 30 (KS)- Noted snake rescuer Balasubramanya (Snake Shyam) has urged Chief Minister Siddharamaiah to provide compensation to fellow snake rescuers who lose their lives due to snake bites during their courageous rescue operations.

In an appeal conveyed through a letter handed over to CM Siddharamaiah at Suttur Mutt yesterday, Snake Shyam highlighted his own extensive experience of 46 years in rescuing around 86,440 snakes. He also noted that his son, Surya Keerthi, is actively involved in the same cause.

He underlined that snake rescuers play a crucial role in safeguarding both snakes and humans. Unfortunately, many of these rescuers have tragically lost their lives due to snake bites while carrying out their duties, leaving their families in distress. Snake Shyam earnestly urged the CM to extend Government compensation to these heroic individuals who selflessly risk their lives to protect both human and reptile populations.

Snake Shyam seen handing over the letter to Chief Minister Siddharamaiah at Suttur Mutt in city yesterday.

Drawing attention to the alarming rate of snakebite incidents, which affect around 50 to 60 individuals daily, especially among labourers and farmers, Snake Shyam urged the CM to take the initiative to reserve 10 hospital beds exclusively for snakebite victims across the State. This move could potentially save lives and provide timely medical assistance to those in need, he added.

Former J&K CM Dr. Farooq Abdullah visits Tipu tomb, Sriranganathaswamy Temple

Recalls fond memories of lunch on a banana leaf in Mysuru

Former Chief Minister of Jammu and Kashmir Dr. Farooq Abdullah flanked by former Karnataka Minister R. Roshan Baig and Congress leader Acharya Pramod Krishnam during their visit to the tomb of Hazrath Tipu Sultan at Srirangapatna on Monday. Former Mysuru Corporator Suhail Baig was among those who accompanied the VIP visitor.

Mysuru, Aug. 30 (BCT)- Former Chief Minister of Jammu and Kashmir (J&K) and National Conference leader Dr. Farooq Abdullah visited the tomb of Hazrath Tipu Sultan at Srirangapatna on Monday (Aug. 28) and paid his respects by placing a chaddar, made of flowers, on the tomb.

Dr. Farooq Abdullah, current MP from Srinagar, was in Bengaluru on Aug. 27 as a guest at the '31st Hussain Day' event titled 'Diversity in Solidarity.'

On Aug. 28, Farooq Abdullah's cavalcade arrived at 12.30 pm from Bengaluru and was accompanied by Congress leader Acharya Pramod Krishnam and former Minister R. Roshan Baig. A large number of local leaders including former Mysuru Corporator Suhail Baig accorded a warm welcome to dignitaries.

The former J&K CM also visited the Sriranganathaswamy Temple in Srirangapatna and offered his prayers. The Police had made elaborate security arrangements as Farooq Abdullah is a Z-plus security cover protectee of the National Security Guard (NSG), also known as Black Cat Commandos. After spending some time at the tomb, he met the local community leaders at the Jamma Masjid and interacted with them.

According to Suhail Baig, 85-year-old Dr. Farooq Abdullah recalled his fond memories of food served on banana leaf at Hotel Dasaprakash in Mysuru and expressed his wish to have lunch on banana leaf. "We told him that Hotel Dasaprakash is closed for renovation and we took him to the RRR Hotel at Gandhi Square. People who were having lunch clicked photos as the VIP entered the hotel along with gun-toting Black Cat Commandos," Suhail said.

At lunch, Dr. Farooq Abdullah appreciated the distinct taste of the food and even interacted with other people who were having lunch. With folded hands, he passed through the rows of the hotel and said that he was impressed by the crowd and the food. The former J&K CM later happily posed for photos with the hotel staff, suppliers, waiters and even the cleaning staff. Sources said that he gave them a handsome tip too.

On the way out from Gandhi Square, Dr. Farooq Abdullah visited the Mysore Palace. He, however, did not go inside the Palace building due to his tight schedule. The dignitaries returned to Bengaluru by road.

Considering the sensitivity of the issue and the emotional attachment of the people of Kodagu with the statue, the District Administration decided to repair the statue and it has been shifted to Mysuru now. MLAs of Kodagu A.S. Ponnanna and Manthar Gowda had assured the people of Kodagu that the statue will be installed at the same place.

Last evening, the statue that was placed at 'Sunny Side' that houses General K.S. Thimayya Museum, was shifted with the help of a crane and was mounted on a truck KA-09-C-6002 and was shifted to Mysuru.

The repair works will be undertaken by Arun Yogiraj and his team. Arun had carved the statue of Adi Shankaracharya installed at Kedarnath and the statue of Subash Chandra Bose installed in New Delhi. The statue repair works have been entrusted to Arun based on the recommendations from former Law Minister M.C. Nanaiah.

Yogiraj

Speaking to Star of Mysore from Ayodhya, Arun Yogiraj said that he holds immense respect for General Thimayya. "I readily agreed for the restoration and the process will be completed within 25 days without causing any harm to the original beauty and the structure of the statue," he said.

Over the past 50 years, the statue has been painted numerous times. "Initially, the paint on the front part of the statue will be removed. Then, welding will be done for the damaged parts. Following this, some chemical substances will be used for restoration and filling in the gaps. Bronze will be melted and used to fill the damages. The statue will finally be repainted to blend seamlessly with the natural surroundings while retaining the original charm," he added.

CM inaugurates renovated Burns Unit, new MRI machine at K.R. Hospital

Siddharamaiah unveils logo of centenary celebrations of Mysore Medical College and Research Institute

Mysuru, Aug. 30 (RK&BCT)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah unveiled the logo of the centenary celebrations of Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI), one of the oldest medical colleges in the country, founded in 1924, at a function held at K.R. Hospital premises in city yesterday.

Speaking on the occasion, the CM expressed his delight at the institution's remarkable 100-year journey as he also inaugurated the renovated 35-bed Burns Unit at K.R. Hospital as well as the unveiling of the state-of-the-art MRI machine equipped with cutting-edge software and reconstruction algorithms.

He emphasised the duty of doctors to diligently study diseases and provide treatment imbued with care and compassion.

"The century-long existence of MMC&RI fills us with immense joy and pride. Personally, I once aspired to study medicine, but fate did not grant me admission to the medical college. Reflecting back, I don't believe I would have foreseen becoming the CM if I had pursued a medical education, as I eventually did," Siddharamaiah said.

Success is attainable across any profession with unwavering determination and commitment. Upholding professional integrity is paramount; through genuine respect and ardour for one's field, the respect of the people can be earned. The CM emphatically stated that the medical profession stands as one of the noblest callings.

Looking back in history, the then Maharaja of Mysore, Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar played a pivotal role in the establishment of the Mysore Medical College in 1924. Prior to this institution's founding, aspiring medical students had to travel to Madras for their education. The graduates of this institution now serve both nationally and internationally, a testament to its enduring impact, Siddharamaiah said.

Funds for centenary celebrations

"The impact of this institution is now evident as its graduates contribute their expertise worldwide. As we commemorate the centennial milestone of this esteemed institution, let us do so with grandeur and enthusiasm. I pledge the allocation of necessary funds to ensure the celebratory occasion is fitting. During my earlier tenure as CM, we initiated a District Hospital with a capacity of 300 beds and inaugurated the Jayadeva Hospital, Princess Krishnajammanni Super Speciality Hospital and the Trauma Care Centre. These facilities have drawn patients from Kodagu, Hassan, Mandya, and Chamarajanagar districts for quality medical care," he added.

Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa highlighted the remarkable growth of the hospital from its modest beginnings of 20 beds to its current status of 1,100 beds, now a pivotal medical hub in the region.

MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah shared his journey of pursuing MBBS education from this institution between 1964 and 1970. He gratefully acknowledged the support extended by the then Chief Minister D. Devaraj Urs. Following his studies, he took on the role of a Medical Officer, later ascending to the position of District Health and Family Welfare Officer at the age of 40. Dr. Thimmaiah credited his success to the emphasis on cultivating personal connections with patients.

Chamaraja MLA K. Harishgowda presided over the event and attributed the development of these institutions to Siddharamaiah's financial support. He advocated for the establishment of a Nephrology Centre and a Kidney Hospital in Mysuru.

MLAs D. Ravishankar and Anil Chikkamadu, former MLA Dr. Yathindra Siddharamaiah, MLC Marithibbegowda, Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, Medical Education Department Director Dr. Sujatha Rathod, City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, Southern Range DIGP Dr. M.B. Boralingaiah, MMC&RI Dean and Director Dr. K.R. Dakshayani, senior doctors Dr. N. Nanjundaswamy, Dr. Manjunath, Dr. M.A. Shekhar, Dr. Dinesh, Dr. Chandrashekhar, Dr. Sangamesh, Dr. Komala, Dr. Narendra and other dignitaries were present.

Bar Association fetes Siddu with silver mace

Mysuru, Aug. 30 (SBD&DM)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah was warmly felicitated by Mysuru Bar Association at a programme held in the Mysuru City and District Courts Complex here yesterday.

Addressing the legal fraternity on the occasion, Siddharamaiah said that politics is not for pleasure and entertainment and instead is a field for bringing about a change for better in the society.

Observing that politics should be used for getting justice to the deprived and eradication of social and economical inequality, the CM said Dr. Ambedkar dreamt of social and political upliftment of the depressed sections of the people.

Stressing on the need for every section of the society to get equal opportunities, he said that Independence can be meaningful only if the deprived get social, economical and political power.

Recalling how he became a lawyer, Siddharamaiah described himself as an accidental lawyer. Noting that his father wanted him to become a Doctor, he said however, he could not get a Medical seat as he had scored low marks in PUC and as such he joined B.Sc course in Yuvaraja College. After completing B.Sc, he applied for an M.Sc seat in Botany at Manasagangothri. But he could not get M.Sc admission for want of income certificate, following which he returned to agriculture in his village, when he got into a feud over a piece of land.

Later, following advice of his friends, he joined Law course in Mysuru's Sarada Vilas Law College and completed Law Degree. This was how he became a lawyer and started practicing Law in Mysuru, he explained.

He further said that he worked as a Junior Lawyer under P.M. Chikkaboraiah, who became an MLA after several years.

The CM also recalled how he was inspired by the leadership of farmer leader Prof. M.D. Nanjundaswamy, who was then a faculty of Sarada Vilas Law College.

He also explained how he took on his village local leader (Shyanubhoga) Chennappayya who had advised his (Siddu) father against making him a Lawyer.

Stressing on the need for lawyers to ensure justice for their clients, he said that lawyers must make honest efforts to get justice for the poor and the helpless.

Lauding the legal fraternity of Mysuru for professional ethics, he said that the Mysuru Bar Association played a crucial role in his becoming the Chief Minister for the second time.

Principal District and Sessions Court Judge G.S. Sangreshi in his address was all praise for the CM. Maintaining that it was a day to remember in his life as one of the most valued ones, Judge Sangreshi said he has been following Siddharamaiah since 1988 and have met him many times. "I have heard and read his talks and speeches. I am personally one among his innumerable fans," he said.

Dy.CM appears on stage

Even as the programme continued into night, Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar appeared on the stage and sat next to the CM at about 8.30 pm. He was seen handing over a paper note to Siddharamaiah, which was read by the CM in right earnest, following which the two had brief chat. Shivakumar later pulled out another paper from his pocket and gave to the CM even as their conversation continued. Later, Shivakumar left the stage at around 8.50 pm.

'Law Guide' monthly magazine editor H.N. Venkatesh and Bar Association President M. Mahadevaswamy felicitated the CM by presenting a silver mace.

Earlier CM Siddharamaiah unveiled the portrait of late Senior Lawyer H. Gangadharan.

Bar Association office-bearers S. Umesh, Puttasiddegowda and Bhagayamma, Karnataka Bar Council member Chandramouli, former member Appajigowda, senior lawyers C.M. Jagadish and A.S. Nataraj, CM's Political Secretary K. Govindaraj, former MUDA Chairman C. Basavegowda and others were present.

The Bar Association presented a charter of demands to the CM which included Rs.10 crore grant for construction of Association building in Malalawadi Courts Complex, power bill waiver of the Association, development of Library, release of money for purchase of law books, allotment of 2 acre land available in front of Malalawadi Court Complex for construction of Lawyers Community Hall and setting up of AC and DC Courts in the Law Courts Complex, among others.

Sea of women descend on city

Over 2,000 KSRTC buses ferry Gruha Lakshmi beneficiaries to Maharaja's College Grounds; breakfast and food packets provided while boarding buses

Mysuru, Aug.30 (BLU,DM& BCT)- All roads in the city seemed to lead towards Maharaja's College Grounds this morning as a multitude of people, primarily women from Mysuru and surrounding districts arrived in various vehicles to the venue.

As women dressed in their best walked towards their destination, areas like University of Mysore, Saraswathipuram Railway Bridge, Krishnaraja Boulevard, Kantharaj Urs Road and surrounding localities were buzzing with activity.

Beginning at 8 am, the Police had effectively closed all roads leading to Maharaja's College Grounds for vehicular access as part of crowd and traffic control measures. Vehicles, including buses and tempos, which transported individuals from different directions, were directed to drop off passengers at points such as Chamaraja Double Road, Vinoba Road, Krishnaraja Boulevard (Court Road) and other approach roads, each at a significant distance from the venue. To cater to the event, the Government had arranged a fleet of 2,000 KSRTC buses to transport people from various parts of the five districts (Mysuru, Mandya, Hassan, Chamarajanagar and Kodagu).

'We are the Gruha Lakshmis'

Panchayat Development Officers of village panchayats and Tahsildars of taluks were tasked with the responsibility of bringing women to Mysuru. All KSRTC buses sported posters and banners on all sides announcing the Gruha Lakshmi Scheme and the promised Rs. 2,000.

The boarding points at villages and tribal hamlets wore a festive look as each bus was flagged off either by officials or the village heads. Women even applied rangolis in front of houses and at the boarding points that conveyed the message "we are the Gruha Lakshmis".

Passengers were provided with breakfast at the departure points of these buses and each bus displayed a destination and route map to assist travellers in navigating to and from their respective destinations. As food was not served at the venue, food packets were distributed to the women while they boarded the buses.

As soon as they arrived in Mysuru, the women, wearing colourful sarees, walked in groups to the venue and were seen at all the footpaths and many were seen taking shelter under the trees to escape from the scorching sun. Most of the women who came from the villages were left stranded on the roads as they could not enter the packed venue. They were seen opening their umbrellas and squatting on the footpaths and culverts.

The venue was also packed with women who constituted 90 percent of the crowd. Symbolising 'Gruha Lakshmi,' most of the women wore jasmine flowers on their braids.

Constant traffic jams

With all routes leading to Maharaja's College Grounds sealed off for vehicular movement, the heart of the city and its surrounding areas experienced extensive traffic congestion. Vehicles stretched over long distances on the roads, reminiscent of the situation often observed during the Dasara festival. The Police faced significant challenges in managing the crowd at the venue and regulating traffic on the approach roads.

Concerning the venue itself, Congress party flags, buntings, banners and posters adorned the entire Maharaja's College Grounds and its vicinity. Party flags were visible throughout the vicinity of the venue. Cutouts of Congress leaders Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi, Mallikarjuna Kharge, Siddharamaiah, D.K. Shivakumar and H.C. Mahadevappa were placed on all the roads that led to the event venue.

Street vendors selling food items, snacks, cool drinks, tender coconut, ground nuts, churmuri, water bottles and the like, had a good time as they did brisk business, with women sitting and squatting on the roads in the vicinity of the grounds under the scorching sun. A few vendors were also seen selling clothes and dresswears to women. Tight security was provided all around the venue with Police personnel deployed in good numbers to control crowds and regulate traffic.

WORD OF THE DAY

Nexus

Pronunciation: NEK-sus.
Meaning: A nexus is a relationship or connection between people or things.
Origin: If you're unfamiliar with the word nexus, the popular, long-running video game series The Legend of Zelda may provide an object lesson in its several definitions (and if you're unfamiliar with the games, we will explain). When nexus came into English in the 17th century, it meant "connection" or "link." Eventually, people began using it to refer to a connected group or series of things, as in "a nexus of relationships." In recent decades it has taken on a third meaning: "center" or "hub," perhaps from the notion that a point in the center of an arrangement serves to join together the objects that surround it. Now, one might plausibly say that the 20 Zelda games (not counting remakes and spin-offs) themselves form a nexus, as each represents an installment in a long, twisty saga with numerous echoes and callbacks to other games in the series. Most of these feature the fictional land of Hyrule, which often presents magical nexuses to shadowy alternate dimensions (1991's A Link to the Past), the past (2011's Skyward Sword), or the underworld (2023's Tears of the Kingdom) that the hero, Link (ahem) must traverse.

THE ODD WORD

Narcolepsy

Pathological drowsiness.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Near the knuckle

Meaning: Just at the limit of acceptability, especially regarding sexual morals.
Origin: 'Near the knuckle' originated in the variety hall performances of Victorian England. Despite quite a research effort the reason why 'near the knuckle' was chosen to mean 'verging on indecent or unacceptable' we don't know. Why knuckle rather than elbow or wrist or cormorant? The person who coined it must have had something in mind, but we just don't know what. Victorian England has many times been said to have had a public respectability which disguised seedy immorality conducted in secret. Public performances were strictly controlled by the Lord Chamberlain and any explicit reference to sex was verboten - a state that continued right into the 1950s. This was of course the ideal breeding ground for euphemism and innuendo. There were a host of female variety hall performers who sang apparently innocent songs the true meaning of which the audience could easily read between the lines. Vesta Tilley and Marie Lloyd got away with songs like "A little bit of what you fancy" and "Burlington Bertie". They sound innocent enough but the true meaning wasn't lost on the audience.
